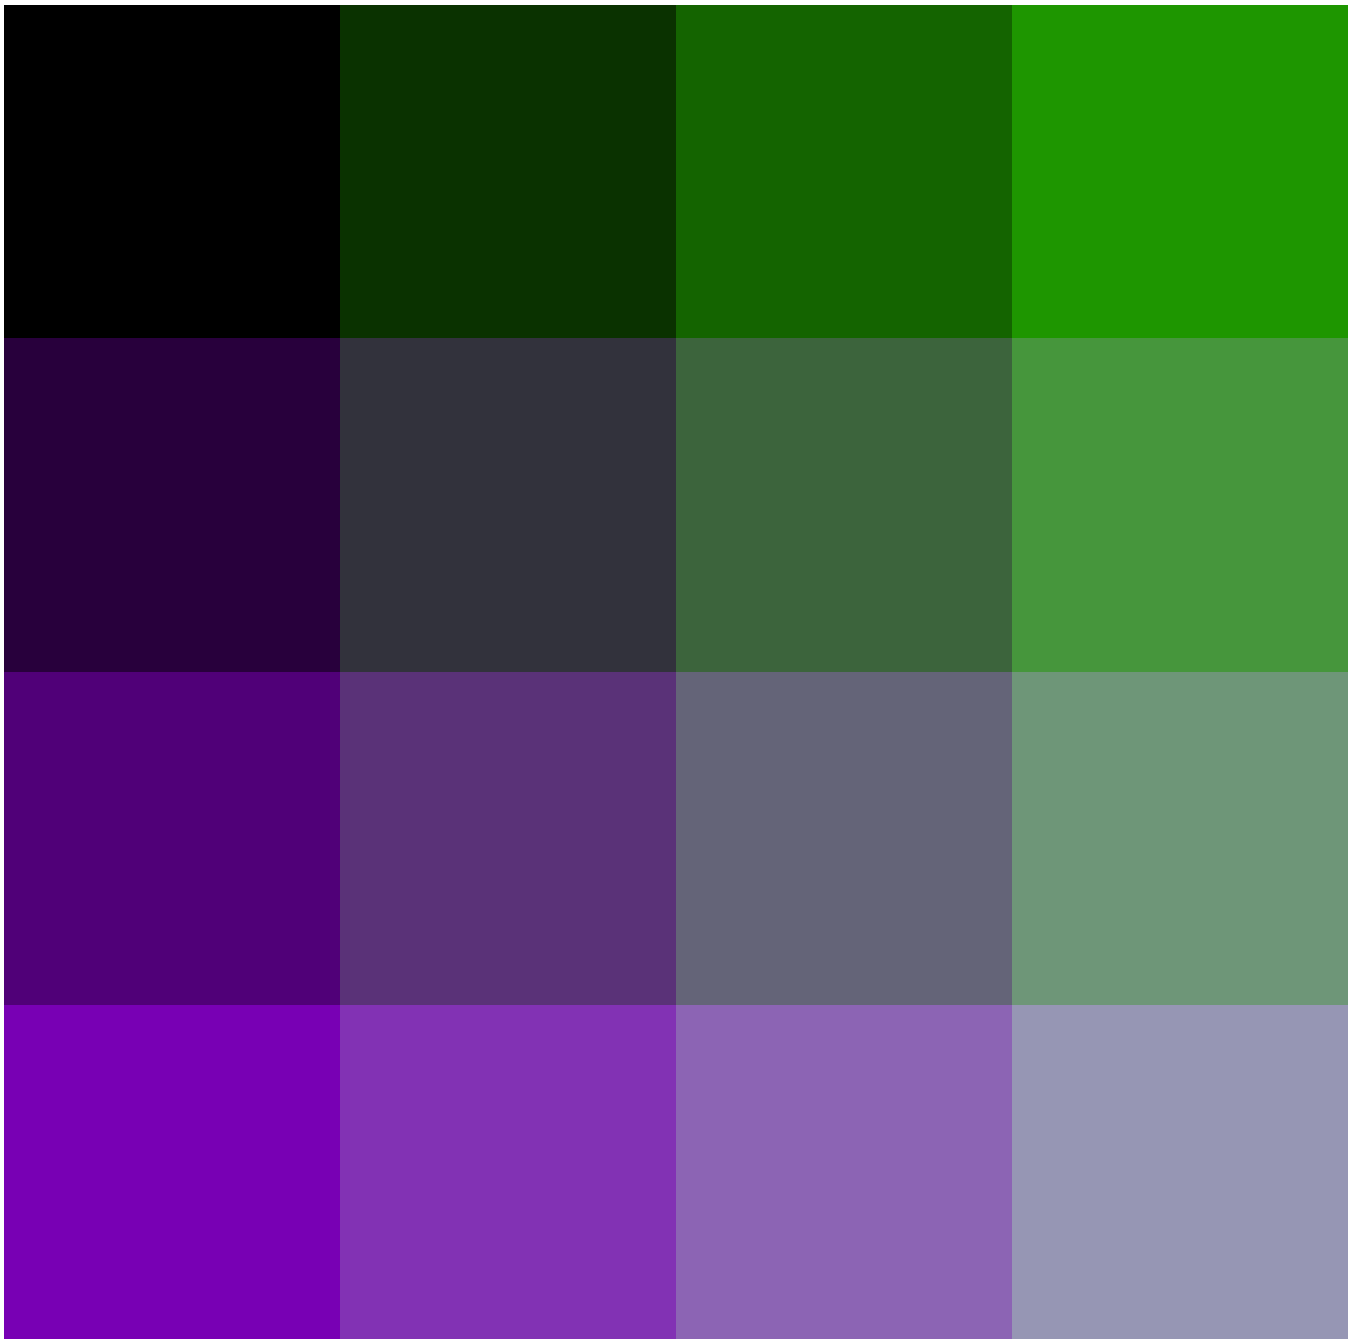
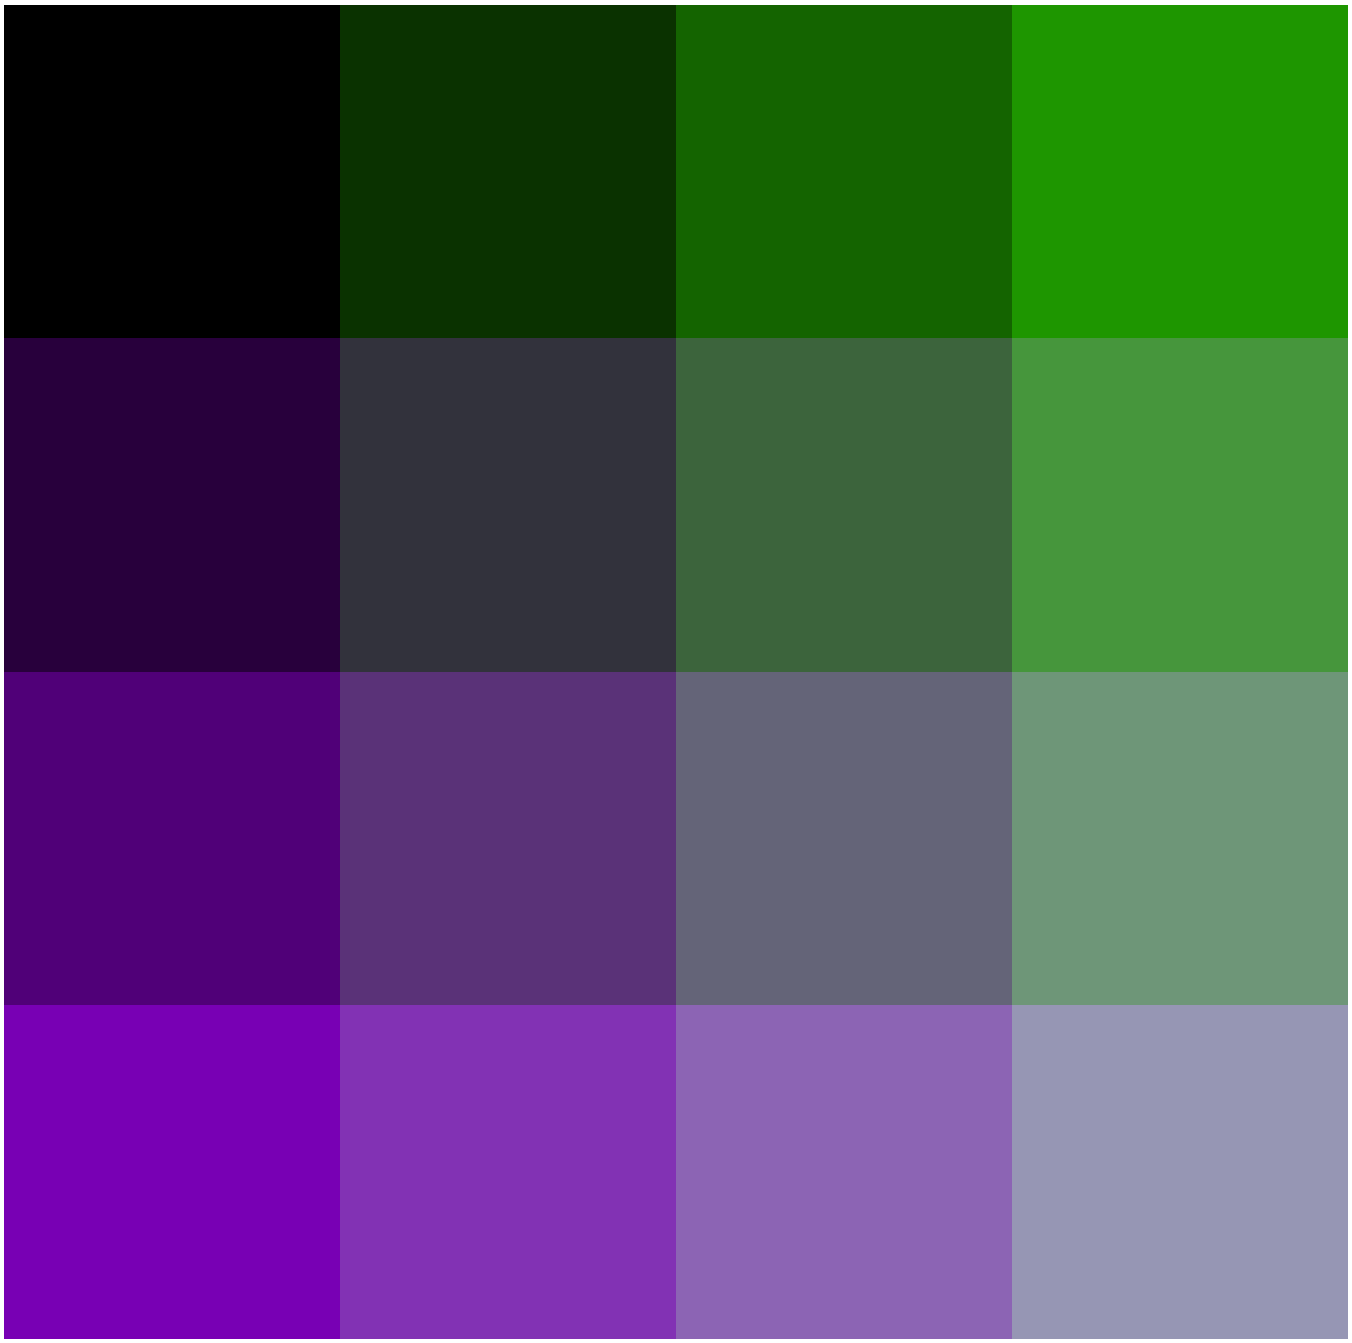
Field Report: Mixed Sources

This page was born digital. Its text layer is complete, and no OCR engine will ever be asked about it: a page that can cite itself through its own text layer is never sent to the sidecar.



Second Digital Page


The same law holds here. The routing signal is per-page emptiness of the text walk, not the request’s tier label: ask for ocr and the text-layer pages still keep their extracted text verbatim.